EASY FOR THE CENSUS.

The Inbulators Found the Treasury Pitcher to Their Liking.

Some one circulated the report that there would be a baseball game at the National Ball Park yesterday and several hundred spectators went out to see it but when they arrived at the park they were told that nothing of the kind was to take place, and that the men who op-erate the tabulating machines at the Census Office had merely gone out to have a little practice and limber up, with the Treasury team furnishing the victims. The Treasury team furnishing the victims. The Treasury lads asserted that it was all boosh to say that the Census team had won all their games by superior playing, and that it was merely lock that enabled them to hold the lead so long. They said that with the team they had out yesterday they could easily shut out the doughty statisticians, but that remained to be seen. Captain Brooks, of the Treasury clans, thought that he had made a lucky lind in a lad of about seventeen summers and carrying around with him about ninety pounds and bearing a surname of Herring, but Brooks was away off, as the First Street men succeeded in getting eighteen runs off of this lad's delivery in the four innings that were played and there were bright prospects of their getting as many more had the game not been called at the conclusion of that inning. The score by innings:

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

The suspension of the national agreement on September 30 by the National Lengue will not be the means of the big league getting ball players free from at least one of the minor leagues.

'They won't get a player from the Eastern League," said President Powers, of that organization. "All of our players are under contract for another year, and the suspension of the national agreement means that the National League cannot even get players by draft as heretofore. The only way they can get them is by actual sale. They can get them from the time our season ends to

It may be that these officials are something weird in other cities, as alleged by the howlers, but here in Boston their work is fully up to that of National League umpires. to that of National League umpires. Haskell, Mannassau, Connolly, and Cantillon have given unqualified satisfaction to the spectators here. They make their mistakes, but what umpires do not? Mr. Johnson is justified in standing by such officials to the end. The Boston players deserve a word of commendation in this connection for their gentlemanly conduct in the lower scales now pearing complein the long series now nearing comple-tion.—Boston Herald.

George Mullin, of the Fort Wayne team of the Western League, is said to have of the Western League, is said to have made a dicker with the Boston American League team for next year. Mullin had offers from three other American League teams, but the bait thrown out by Boston was most tempting. Mullin first attained prominence in the baseball world when a pitcher on the Wabash team of the "Three-eye" League in 1859.

DESERTION THE CHARGE.

Peculiar Grounds of a Young Wife's

In a petition for divorce filed yesterday by Nannie M. Barciay, asking a legal sep-aration from her husband, Edgar Leslie Barclay, jr., she states that within a few days after her marriage her father-in-law said to her: "You had better leave; the best place for you is at home, be cause you will never get along with Ed-

NEWS FROM ALEXANDRIA ALEXANDRIA, Va., Aug. 29.-It was ascertained here this morning from good authority at Fairfax Courthouse that Willis Petty, who was confined in the jail at that place Friday last on the charge of attempting to criminally assault Mrs. Roberta Payne, had been taken from his cell there and carried to some point south. The authorities had endeavored to cover up their tracks, but it was stated there was excellent reason for believing that It is explained that Mrs. Barclay's maiden name was Ward and that on August 5, 1839, she was married to the de-fendant at Alexandria, Va. At that time,

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS M. Pasteur, of France, invented a process for killing all possible germs in a product, and we use it. After each bottle of Schlitz beer is filled and sealed it is sterilized. This is an extreme precaution. The beer is brewed in extreme cleanliness, cooled in filtered air, then filtered. It seems impossible for a taint of impurity to get to it. Yet we sterilize every bottle. We, who know brewing, know the value of purity. We add vastly to the necessary cost of our beer to assure it. You who drink it get the healthful results of our precaution. Your physician knows; ask him. 不 Phone 480, Schlitz, 615-21 D St. S. W., Washington.
